Tax Office Open Saturdays

Proposal Could Hike Taxes

School Consolidation Eyed

A proposal presented Saturday by the Governor's Education Study Committee in Austin could eliminate the Umbarger School District and raise local school taxes.

The study committee, which recently completed its three-year comprehensive evaluation, recommended the reorganization of the 1,218 current school districts in Texas and a reduction in number to 353.

The plan will be presented to the Legislature this month.

Stipulations of the combining of districts include:

"Every operating district should contain a minimum of 2,600 children in average daily attendance in a 12 grade system with three exceptions:

*"Countywide (or larger) districts may be allowed to continue operation as independent systems with a minimum of 1,600 average daily attendance;

*"Countywide (or larger) districts may be allowed to operate as 'Sparse Area Districts' with less than 1,600 average daily attendance on a program approved by the State Board of Education;

*" 'Special purpose Districts' (such as those operated on military bases, at State institutions and by private corporations such as 'Boys Ranch') may be allowed to continue operation with less than 1,600 average daily attendance on a program approved by the State Board of Education."

Jerry Jacobs, superintendent of Canyon schools, said under this recommendation, the Umbarger Common district and the Canyon Independent School District would be consolidated with control resting with the Canyon School Board.

Umbarger school now has about 60 students and four teachers.

Jacobs said this proposal, if passed by the Legislature, would have no effect on that part of South Amarillo which is in Randall County.

In addition to the changes in school districting, the committee also proposed an overhaul of the school financing system, with a more equal burden to be placed on rural areas.

Jacobs said the current system, called the minimum foundation program, was begun in 1947 and provides that each local district be required to raise

Flight Success Relieving

BY ELAINE PEEPLES

The most apprehensive part of the Apollo 8 space flight, according to Canyon residents, was the moment when the astronauts made the burn to leave moon orbit or when they re-entered the earth's atmosphere.

Most of those interviewed said they felt relieved when they knew that the astronauts were back safely.

Mrs. Ronald Briley said that she stayed up until 2 a.m. to see if the astronauts would make it out of the moon orbit.

"I had a feeling they might not make it," she said. Mrs. Briley said she felt that the future space flights would go real smooth since they made it this time.

Gaylon Buckland said he was relieved that they were back and thought the most apprehensive moment was when they fired the rocket to leave the moon.

He said that he thought future flights would be successful but that he saw no real purpose in it. "It seems like there are lots of things we could work on here instead of spending time up there," he said.

John Nail also expressed the same opinion. "I feel like we have got better places to spend money than up there," he said. "I guess we need to keep going up to gain status but I think there are better ways to gain status," he said.

Jack Bullock said he felt the flight was quite an achievement. He said he thought future flights would be successful but felt there was a possibility that we might lose an astronaut. "If I were an astronaut, I would want the chances for success to be 99 per cent," he said.

Mrs. R. C. Campsey said she felt wonderful and grateful that the astronauts were safely home. "I think it was the Lord's will or they wouldn't have made this one so I don't see why they can't go on."

She said she thought the pic-

Burglars Try Bank In Happy

HAPPY--Burglars, equipped with an oxy-acetylene cutting torch, attempted to open the vault of the Happy First State Bank early Tuesday, but were thwarted by an armored car officer.

Bank President Carl Small said the burglary attempt took place about 3:45 a.m. Tuesday.

He said the burglars apparently tried to pry open the bank's front door, but failed and jimmied the back door to gain entrance.

Swisher County Sheriff's office spokesmen said Tuesday they have no suspects and no clues in the burglary.

The Amarillo office of the FBI is also working on the investi-

New Chamber Officers Are House, Knowles, Christopher

Banker Dean House was named president of Canyon Chamber of Commerce Monday night as the board elected officers for 1969.

He succeeds JoZach Byrd in that capacity.

House is executive vice president of West Texas State Bank of Canyon.

He has been employed by West Texas State Bank since it was established in January of 1967. Before coming to Canyon he was manager of the Plainview Production Credit Littlefield office.

House is active in Rotary Club and has held a number of offices in that organization.

He is a member of the Church of Christ and is a graduate of Tulia High School. He attended West Texas State University.

Other officers named include Eddie Knowles, car dealer, vice president; and Jimmy Christopher, an insurance and real estate man, treasurer.

The board approved the current Chamber financial statement and made plans for the annual Chamber of Commerce breakfast for exhibitors, parents and officials for the Randall County Junior Livestock Show. The breakfast will be held the morning of Jan. 11 in American Legion Hall. Time will be announced later.

Speaker for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet to be held Feb. 14 was announced. He is Dr. Phillip Coldwell, president of the Federal Reserve

'TEXAS' Auditions Friday At WTSU

The first auditions for the fourth season of "Texas" will be held Friday afternoon from 1 to 4 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building at West Texas State University.

Auditions will be held for actors, singers, dancers and the following instruments: guitar, banjo, violin, accordian and double bass.

The date Jan. 3 was chosen to accommodate students who are in the area for the holidays, according to Mrs. Ples Harper with the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation.

Three directors will conduct the auditions. William A. Moore who is in charge will be assisted by Royal Brantley, the music director and by Margaret Echols Moore, the associate director.

Neil Hess, the choreographer, will interview dancers at 4 p.m.

"Texas" has a cast of 68 and a total company of 120. Re-

Wreck Causes Heavy Damage

Driver of a loaded caliche truck swerved to miss a pick-up towing another truck on South Washington Tuesday morning, went into the ditch and overturned doing about $16,000 damage.

Investigating Highway Patrolman Harold Eavenson said the truck belonged to the J. Lee Milligan Construction Company and was operated by Elmer Eugene Askin, 39, Amarillo.

Eavenson said the pickup towing another truck was driven by Terry Lee Criss, 21, a West Texas State University student from Amarillo.

The vehicles were traveling north on Washington.

The pick-up was towing a two-ton truck with a feeder bed and was in the process of turning left onto a rural road. Askin was attempting to pass the pick-up and truck at the time and as the pick-up turned left in front of him, he made a swing to the right to avoid a broadside collision, according to Eavenson.

The caliche truck went into the right road ditch and overturned. The driver was not injured. J. Lee Milligan, owner of the construction firm, said the truck was a total loss and estimated damage at $16,000.

Eavenson said the pick-up involved belonged to E. J. McCartt of Amarillo.

It takes no intelligence to see that going to the moon is "out of this world". I only wish that we ordinary minds could learn to retrain from recording for posterity our stupidity by commenting on its worth.

Floods, Sports, Politics Figure In 68

BY TROY MARTIN

Canyon history for 1968 ran the gamut from improvement of public facilities, to floods, sports achievements and politics.

It was election year and many of the notables in state races visited in Canyon.

These included Preston Smith, who won the Democratic nomination and eventually the governor's chair, and his opponent in his party's run-off, Don Yarborough.

Affable Paul Eggers paid two visits to Canyon and ran well in the county. As Republican candidate for governor, he swamped Smith in the general election.

This was due largely to Smith's feud with Grady Hazlewood, veteran state senator from Canyon.

The year started on a cheerful note with the Canyon High School girl basketball team winning the district championship by defeating Tulia.

This took place in February after a rather lack-luster January.

Assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, Negro civil rights and religious leader, in Memphis in April had results in Canyon. Some 200 persons staged a memorial march in honor of the slain leader.

Also in April, city voters approved a $440,000 general obligation bond issue to provide funds for street, storm sewer, dump ground and sewage plant improvements.

May was an eventful month in Canyon.

Some Negro students at West Texas State University, offended by display of the Confederate flag by Kappa Alpha fraternity during traditional Old South observance, threatened to picket in protest.

The scheduled KA parade was delayed by inclement weather and when it finally took place picketing did not materialize.

On May 18, voters of Canyon Independent School District approved a $1,350,000 school bond issue for construction of a new junior high school building and the air conditioning of Rex Reeves Elementary School.

Students for a Democratic Society, a self-styled radical left group, held meetings off campus in May and heard talks by one of the SDS state leaders, Bartee Haille.

At year end officials of the Amarillo Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union had pledged help for the SDS in efforts it might make to secure a charter as a campus organization at West Texas State University.

There was indication that a request for a charter would be forthcoming early this year.

In July the US Immigration Service relented and allowed a German cold war bride who had

Eagles Trim Spearman For Consolation Win

The Canyon Eagles won their Saturday night consolation match against Spearman 80-76, and Eagle Jackie Thrasher was placed on the all-tournament team at the conclusion of the Borger Tournament.

Canyon had beaten Phillips in Friday night action and lost to Clovis Thursday night.

Canyon began the game with a strong push and quickly took an eight-point lead in the first quarter.

Thrasher, with seven points, led the Eagles to a 22-14 first quarter margin.

But, Spearman bounced back in the second stanza and fired in 28 points to Canyon's 23. Jerry Landrum of Canyon hit six points to pace Eagle second quarter scoring.

The Spearman spurt was just not enough to overcome the Canyon lead and the Eagles went to the dressing room at halftime owning a slim three point lead.

The third quarter saw the Eagle defense jell and the offense take control, as Spearman was held to 10 points for the round.

Canyon widened its lead to 66-52 at the end of the third period.

The circumstances were reversed in the fourth quarter as Canyon made only 14 points to

Tax Office To Open Saturdays

The Randall County Tax office in Canyon and south Amarillo will be open from 9 a.m. to noon each Saturday beginning January 4.

The Canyon office is located on the second floor of the Randall County Court house and the Amarillo office is at 3806 South Bowie.

According to Audrey Bruse, tax assessor-collector-elect, it is time to render property for tax purposes and claim homestead exemption, which must be claimed each year.

The deadline for registering to vote is Jan. 31.

License plates will go on sale on Feb. 1. Application must be made to the tax office to reserve a special number or a personalized plate.

Building Permits More Than '67

The amount spent for buildings in Canyon through November of 1968 was up more than $1 million compared to the same period in 1967.

But, the large increase was due to the construction of one $2 3/4 million building on the West Texas State University campus.

Building permits through November 1968 totaled $4,052,450. For the same period in 1967, the total was $2,134,997.

Of the 1968 total, four buildings accounted for more than $3 million.

They were the Physical Activities Building, now under construction on the WTSU campus, with a total of $2,664,000; the Methodist Student Center on the WTSU campus, $111,704; the Courthouse annex, $400,000; and a 12-unit apartment complex, $65,000.

The largest total was recorded in October, with $2,736,000, followed by January with $508,800.

Permit for the Physical Activities Building was applied for in October, and the permit for the Courthouse annex was received in January.

In 1967, the largest total was recorded in September, with $661,050, followed by January with $305,340.

Thirty-six new residences were constructed in 1968, and 10 homes received additions.

Eight move-in residences received permits and five storage houses were built. Four garages were constructed.

Eighty-nine types of construction were carried on in Canyon in 1968.

Call Costs DA Over $1,000

Randall County Dist. Atty. George Dowlen made a quick telephone call to Austin last week that cost him more than $1,000.

Dowlen, along with Sheriff Slim Johnston, was given a pay raise to the legal maximum Dec. 23 by County Commissioners.

Because of a mistake in figuring, Dowlen and the commissioners thought the legal maximum for the district attorney and the sheriff was $11,730.

But, in checking with the attorney general, Dowlen found that the legal maximum is really $10,200.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Tommy Thompson has something else to say about Canyon and Randall County in his Tuesday column in The Amarillo Globe-Times.

He complains that Canyon got the expansion of Randall County court house while the getting was good and before the reapportionment of the county to give South Amarillo three commissioners.

Canyon did not get the court house annex while the getting was good. The court house improvement was pushed by both South Amarillo commissioners, B. R. Jones and Bill Butler.

At the time the decision was made to construct the building, South Amarillo already had a majority on the court--two commissioners and the county judge.

For Tommy's information, a number of Canyon businessmen opposed the new facility. Some of them opposed it simply because they didn't think it was needed, some because commissioners financed it with warrants instead of submitting it to county voters and some opposed it because they wanted the site paved for use as a parking area.

Tommy also winds up among the mistaken in his Tuesday Turnstile statement that, "Consideration is not being given to rerouting 87 around Canyon."

Chili Smith, district engineer with the Texas Highway Department, says such consideration is being given and we will give Chili credit for more knowledge about Texas highway matters in this area than even the astute Mr. Thompson.

Not since Winston Churchill delivered his "blood, sweat and tears" speech in the dark hours of 1940 has Western culture been faced with so bleak a future.

Richard M. Nixon has a lot in common with Winston Spencer Churchill.

Both came out of political retirement to take the reins of state in a crucial hour.

Even though he was faced with the seemingly invincible Nazi military machine on the oceans, the ground and the air, the problems facing Churchill were hardly more grave than those facing Richard Nixon as he takes office Jan. 20.

Churchill could fight a holding action until the "new world in God's good time came to the rescue of the old."

America is the last hope of freedom. There is no "arsenal of Democracy" beyond the seas to bind up our wounds if we fail in our endeavors to contain the forces of dictatorship.

Churchill led a united nation ready to fight "on the beaches, in the fields and in the streets" to preserve their king and country.

Nixon finds a country shot with dissent that often borders treason, a country in which the dissenters themselves seem unable to present a clear picture of what they want.

He is faced with a race problem so abstract in its nature as to defy clarification.

As if all this were not enough, he is inheriting a stalemated war in Vietnam in which the country has been hopelessly bogged down for eight weary years. This must be settled immediately, either by negotiation or by force.

It is too painful for this nation to endure it much longer.

Richard Nixon is familiar with our legislative system having served both in the House and the Senate. He apprenticed for President two terms as vice president under Dwight D. Eisenhower.

He should be an humble man. He was defeated for President in 1960 and so heart broken in 1962 when he lost his race for governor of California that he even counted himself out.

He arose from a poor beginning as a boy sacking groceries in a small store and later working his way through college.

He should have empathy with those who yearn for a more abundant life.

For better or for worse, our fate is in the hands of Richard M. Nixon. Let us hope that God has indeed seen fit to give us another great President. The future of civilization depends upon it.

An atheist in Austin wants future astronauts forbidden to quote scriptures or to pray. Her position is typical of most fanatics. She wants freedom for herself but she is willing to deny the same freedom to others.

She has two switches on her television set which gives her ample freedom in this case. One switch is used to change stations and the other turns the set off.

News Briefs

Mrs. Harold Eavenson and Tracy were to have returned last night from Golden Gate, Fla., where they spent Christmas with Mrs. Eavenson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stahl A. Whitten.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mickey for Christmas were their daughter, Mrs. Fred Ely and children of Canyon, their son, Claude Mickey and family of Tulia, and a granddaughter, Mrs. Wenonah Wood and daughter, Lisa, of Bryan.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marshall had Christmas dinner with their daughter, Mrs. H. D. Dolcater, and family in Amarillo and spent the remainder of the holidays at Arch, New Mexico visiting with their son, Charles Marshall, and family.

Docket Calls Set Monday

Docket calls are slated for 9 o'clock Monday morning for both the district and county courts here.

District court docket will be called in the 47th District Court room and county court docket will be called in the office of County Judge Carroll Brown on the second floor of the Randall County court house, according to Mike Hinton of the district attorney's office.

Hinton said some 29 cases will be called in county court and he expects eight settings in district court.

Youth Meet Set Friday

Panhandle Baptist Youth fellowship meeting will be conducted Friday beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Grace Baptist Church of Canyon, according to Rev. Jerry Mercer.

Delegations are expected from churches in both Hereford and Amarillo. The program will be a combined effort of all church youth groups.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

There is probably more contemplation in the Christian world between December 26 and January 1 than all the previous days of the year combined. The stress and excitement of Christmas is over, and the New Year has not yet begun. Thinking men are prone to evaluate their accomplishments of the old year that is ending, and make plans for the new year that lies ahead.

Only people with youth and vision make New Year's resolutions. (Youth, of course, is relative; some people have it at 90, and some never have it at all.) The old, the cynical, and the defeated, seldom resolve to do better; they have tried and failed too many times already.

During our recent days of meditation, we were made acutely aware of man's strategic position in the Universe by the Astronaut's successful trip to the moon. Despite man's weaknesses and limitations, our Maker chose us as His crowning creation, and gave us dominion over the whole. One of the highlights of Christmas week was the brief period when our space explorers gave reverent acknowledgement to an all-powerful Creator, and thanked Him for His protecting care. Many of us felt their safety was then assured.

How different the story some 56 years ago when the Titantic sailed with the arrogant boast: "God, Himself, couldn't sink this ship." And for 56 years that mighty luxury liner has lain rusting on God's Ocean floor.

There are few--if any--problems that could not be solved if all men everywhere would acknowledge God as Master of the Universe, and seek to align themselves with His will.

As we ponder our exalted position as God's crowning creation, we should be reminded of our awesome responsibilities. Each of us should aspire to leave this world a little better place than we found it, to make the path of life a little smoother for other weary feet to tread.

It is easy to have lofty aspirations; it's not so easy to translate our aspirations into practical solutions to everyday problems. And that's where the New Year's resolutions came in.

What can we do to make the world a better place?

Obviously, we need to begin where we are: our homes. There is a considerable amount of menial work that must be done in every house if a pleasant, comfortable home is to be maintained there. Who will resolve to do his share of that work in 1969?

It takes the cooperation of every single member of a home --regardless of the number--to make it pleasant; it takes only one member being unkind, negligent, or uncooperative to spoil the home for all the rest.

If we have happy homes to send us out bright and cheerful to meet the world, the battle is half won. But if home is a miserable place from which we flee, tense and nervous, seeking a refuge in a cold or indifferent world, we are not likely to find peace anywhere.

The world seems to be composed of two classes of people: the ones who lean, and the ones who are leaned upon. Who will resolve in 1969 to be a pillar upon whom the weaker ones may lean?

We should start in our homes by doing more than our share. Then in our work, our church, and our community, be careful to carry our share of the responsibilities, and try to make the burdens a little lighter for our associates.

Try it, and we'll all have a happy 1969.

a certain amount of money locally for the program.

He said this system "simply guarantees each child in Texas a minimum education."

When the district goes above the minimum, the additional funds must be financed locally, he said.

The amount to be raised locally, Jacobs said, is based on a complicated formula which relates to the county tax values, student population in the county, the value of minerals produced, agricultural products and payrolls.

Jacobs said the governor's committee is recommending that the formula which determines the amount to be raised locally be changed to 100 per cent market value of taxable property.

The committee attempted to determine the district's ability to pay by conducting a sales ratio study, according to Jacobs.

He said according to the study, the county is assessing on 29.4 per cent of actual value.

"We claim on 40 per cent of actual value," Jacobs said.

Currently, Canyon is required to raise $70,000 locally toward the minimum foundation program.

The committee's proposal calls for Canyon to raise $171,000 locally, an increase of $100,000.

When asked how the money will be raised, Jacobs said, "If you're getting $100,000 less, then that $100,000 has got to come from somewhere."

tures from the dark side of the moon were the most exciting.

Mrs. Allen Cansler was in Hawaii visiting her husband who is stationed in Vietnam when the astronauts came down. "I felt closer to them since I was over there," she said.

Mrs. Cansler said she visited the active volcano in Hawaii where the astronauts train for landing on the moon. "I'm just glad I'm not the one who has to do it," she said.

She said she enjoyed when the astronauts read from the Bible most and was most apprehensive when they re-entered the earth's atmosphere.

"It was all really exciting and rewarding to know they could accomplish the flight," said Mrs. Gene Conwell. "I was skeptical and was afraid the ship wouldn't be able to get away from the moon," she said. She said that after the success of the Apollo 8 flight that she would not be so skeptical about future space flights.

Mrs. D. L. Hunt said she hadn't been too interested in past space flights but that she was excited about the Apollo 8 flight. She said she thought it was most exciting that they could see the moon as closely as they did.

L. H. Owen said that after the Apollo 8 flight "there is no doubt in my mind that they can do anything."

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ratliff said they felt the astronauts were lucky to have made it back to earth. Mrs. Ratliff said she felt there were several times when something could have gone wrong, but that she thought everything would be all right for future flights.

Mrs. Ratliff and Mrs. C. D. Schnack said that they didn't have the same romantic feeling about the moon now that they had seen it so close.

Mrs. T. S. Stevenson said she thought the flight was sensational. "Ten years ago we would have said it was impossible," she said.

Small said heavy oxygen and acetylene tanks were abandoned in front of the large walk-in vault, when the burglars heard the armored car officer try to enter the front door.

He said the front door would not open for the officer, and she called Swisher County Deputy Sheriff J. B. Sexton from the town's hotel.

The burglars apparently ran from the building to an awaiting car.

Officers theorized that more than one burglar was involved in the attempt because of the weight and bulk of the oxy-acetylene rig.

Small said nothing is missing from the bank.

hearsals fill the month of June and the season will run from June 27 through Labor Day except Sundays.

New cast members with college experience can earn about $500 in the three months of rehearsal and performance, according to Mrs. Harper. Schedules are arranged so that students may attend classes at West Texas State University during the season.

Other audition dates are Jan. 25 from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building at West Texas, and March 1 from 9 a.m. to noon in the drama department at El Centro College in Dallas.

Actors should be prepared to give a memorized reading, not to exceed three minutes. The director's interest is primarily in those persons who can project voice and characterization in the outdoor amphitheatre and choice of audition material should take this into consideration.

Actors filling minor roles will double as members of the chorus and all applicants should audition for singing as well as acting roles.

Men and women with modern dance and or body movement experience are desired for dancers, however, experience and training in ballet and modern dance is not required. Applicants should bring appropriate workout clothes.

All singers will double in minor speaking roles or as technician assistants. Applicants are auditioned individually and should attend with one prepared number and music for an accompanist, who is provided.

Men and women interested in technicians positions will be interviewed personally.

The minimum age on all positions is 18 years for non-local residents.

In order to have adequate supervision, the parts of the children in the production will be taken by the children of the cast and staff members. Some are given non-pay roles to save child care costs, and those with experience will receive small token salaries.

Rehearsals begin Sunday, June 1. Company members are placed under a written contract and must be available for the entire season.

University dormitory space is available to company members. Other housing is available in Canyon. Cast members must enroll for two hours Summer Theatre for the first term at WTSU at a total fee of $15.

Spearman's 24.

The Spearman thrust again was too little, too late and Canyon took home the ball game with a four-point win, 80-76.

High point man for Canyon was Lon Conner with 18, followed by Chris Gerald with 13, Landrum with 12, Kyle Sunderman with 12, Steve Butler with 10, Ronnie Hager with two and Lynn Salmon with two.

High point man for Spearman was M. Davis with 27, followed by L. Shaver with 24 and J. Vanderberg with 10.

The Eagles made 14 of 22 free throws for 64 per cent, while Spearman made 18 of 26 for 69 per cent.

Canyon had 22 fouls to Spearman's 16.

The Eagles will meet Fritch Friday night at the Canyon High School gym.

unwittingly violated the terms of her visitors visa to remain in this country.

Mrs. Barbara Lawson came to this country from Germany and married Terry Lawson of Canyon.

One of the terms of her visa was that she not leave the country. She walked across the international bridge at El Paso during a holiday visit to El Paso and at first was refused re-admission to this country and then told she might return to Canyon but would have to leave the country immediately.

With heartwarming response to need, Immigration Service officers in Dallas intervened and Mrs. Lawson was allowed to remain.

Late in August torrential rains dumped as much as 9 inches of water on the Canyon community in places within a span of a few hours.

Scores of tourists were stranded in Palo Duro Canyon State Park. Many of them were flown to safety in Air Force heliocopters.

A grand jury cleared three Canyon people of any guilt in an alledged misappropriation of gate fees at Palo Duro State Park.

The three, along with the park superintendent, either were dismissed or resigned under fire late last summer.

Grand jury action came after the superintendent and the three employes left the park service following an investigation of the park's petty cash fund by high ranking Parks and Wildlife officials.

Jurors found that some gate receipts were diverted to the petty cash fund but that some of the very officials who were "investigating" its existence knew of and condoned it.

In October Mrs. Sandy Butrill began a project which resulted in sending special Christmas cards to Canyon youngsters serving in Vietnam. One of the soldiers receiving a card was Sandy's husband, Randy.

Art work for the cards was done on parchment by Dr. Emilio Caballero. About 300 Canyon people signed each card. Mrs. Butrill was unsuccessful in efforts to go to Vietnam and personally deliver the cards.

Texas State Highway Department announced late in 1968 that US 87 would be designated as an Interstate Highway and would by-pass Canyon to the east.

In November came the general election and Randall County voted overwhelmingly for Richard M. Nixon for President.

J. I. "Jim" Fletcher defeated Republican Candidate David Clifton for county commissioner, Precinct 1. Democrat Carroll Brown, incumbent, was elected over Republican C. N. Cosby for county judge.

Mrs. Audrey Bruse, Republican, defeated Democrat incumbent Bill Money for county tax assessor-collector.

Narcotics charges were filed against a teen-age South Amarillo boy in November. By year end, two more narcotics charges had been filed in the county.

On December 2, Southwestern Bell Company linked Canyon and Amarillo with a common telephone system. It is now possible to dial Amarillo numbers from Canyon without toll.

In a December 9 meeting, commissioners court redrew the map of Randall County. Reapportionment placed three commissioner precincts in South Amarillo with the fourth precinct embracing the remainder of the county and all the county's rural roads.

Also at year end, a petition was being circulated by several Canyon businessmen asking the Canyon city commission to repeal a recent resolution involving the installation of medians on US Highway 87 within the Canyon city limits.

Bank of Dallas.

Members of the Chamber board voted to circulate a petition commending the astronauts for reciting the creation story from Genesis and for engaging in prayer during the flight of Apollo 8.

The board discussed problems which may arise as a result of medians being placed on US Highway 87 through Canyon.

Potential High For Recreation

An on-the-ground appraisal of recreation potential in Randall County indicates that the potential for development of outdoor recreation is high.

The appraisal, recently finished and published by the Palo Duro Soil Conservation District, shows that of the 12 types of recreation evaluated, most are needed.

All types, it states, will be essential by 1980.

"The study of potentials was undertaken after the district had completed an inventory of existing facilities, both private and public," said Don Dolle of the district.

Dolle said the next step involved determining the possibilities for additional development and to analyze the potential market.

In conducting the appraisal in conjunction with other state and federal agencies, the district used key elements for each of the 12 recreation categories.

Using the key elements, a value was given each element and then all elements were summed for a total score or rating, Dolle said.

The ratings were "high," "medium," or "low."

The elements used were climate, scenery, natural areas, historic areas, soils, existing waters, potential water impoundment sites, wildlife habitat, wildlife populations, size of population and distribution, age and occupation of population, income levels, proximity and access of existing and potential recreation sites to local roads and tourist routes and rural ownership and land use patterns.

The 12 types of recreation evaluated and their ratings are:

*Vacation cabins, cottages and homesites--high potential with development in the early stages.

*Camping grounds--broken down and rated in three categories: vacation sites, medium potential; pack trips, high; and transient sites, high.

*Picnic and sports areas--broken down and rated in three categories: game, play and target areas, bicycling and picnicing, all high potential.

*Fishing waters--broken down and rated in two classes: warm water, high; cold water, low.

*Golf courses--broken down and rated in two categories: standard and par-3, high; and miniature and driving, high.

*Hunting areas--rated in three kinds: big game, medium; small game, medium; waterfowl, medium.

*Natural, scenic and historic areas--all high.

*Riding stables--high.

*Shooting preserves--low.

*Vacation farms and ranches --high.

*Winter sports--not evaluated because potential non-existant.

The appraisal has been published to serve as a guide for individuals, organizations, agencies and local units of government in planning private or public recreation developments, Dolle said.

Open Fires Dangerous

A warning against the use of an open fire in an unventilated house was issued Tuesday by Dr. J. Manley Bryan, city health officer.

An open flame burns up all the oxygen in a house and can cause carbon monoxide poisoning, Dr. Bryan said.

The use of unventilated stoves is particularly dangerous at this time of year, he said.

The best way to prevent carbon monoxide poisoning is to vent the stove through a vent pipe.

If using an unventilated stove, a window should be opened somewhere in the room to allow fresh oxygen to enter.

Buffs Meet UT Arlington Tonight There

The West Texas State University Buffaloes will try to extend the season mark to 7 wins and 2 losses tonight when they meet the University of Texas at Arlington there.

The UT-A game will be the first for the Buffs on the team's second road trip of the season.

The Buffs will meet the University of Houston, a powerhouse, Saturday night in that South Texas city.

They return to Canyon Jan. 7 when they will play Hardin-Simmons.

The Texas-Arlington leading scorer is 6' 3" Eddie Stallings with 17.6 per game. Four of the team's five starters are averaging in the double figures.

The Rebels have lost to Murray State, Tennessee Tech, Memphis State and Arkansas.

Hog Barn Burns Tuesday

A hog barn at the Canyon High School agricultural department was completely destroyed by fire about 3 a.m. Tuesday.

Fire Chief Joe Rice said the police department discovered the fire about 2:45 a.m. but that the building was almost completely gone when the Fire Department arrived.

Six fire trucks were sent to the scene and firemen fought the blaze in five degree temperatures with the chill factor well below zero.

Marcus Phillips, agriculture teacher, said the building was old and he had no way of estimating the cost of the loss.

A refrigerator and a farrowing crate were also destroyed in the fire, he said. One sow was in the barn at the time of the fire but was not injured.

Rice said that a heat lamp in the building possibly caused the fire but Phillips said that the lamp was about 30 inches off the ground and he thought the fire might have been caused by faulty wiring.

Phillips said that the FFA members appreciated the quick work of the firemen. "We had lots of livestock down there that we might have lost if the firemen hadn't gotten there when they did.

Livestock Entries Due

Entry blanks for the 22nd annual Randall County Junior Livestock Show are due in the hands of the various department superintendents by Monday.

The annual show-sale will be held January 10-11 at the Junior Livestock Building and animals must be in place by 5 p.m. January 10.

The horse show will be at the WT Farm Pavilion, one mile north of Canyon.

Zoning Board Asks Approval For Trailer

The Zoning Board recommended Monday approval of a request by Omer G. Mainville to locate a trailer house in the 1300 block of 3rd Avenue.

Mainville will receive a public hearing on his request at the City Commission meeting Jan. 16. Final decision on the request will rest with the commission.

The 1300 block of 3rd is zoned for multiple family units, but with a special permit, obtained through the zoning and city commissions, a trailer house can be located there, according to City Manager Paul Davis.

Grand Jury Meeting Set

Twenty prospective grand jurors will appear in 47th District Court at 9 o'clock next Monday morning.

The grand jury will be empanelled by District Judge Gene Jordan and will subsequently hold its first meeting of the January term.

Jury commissioners have selected Charles Morrison, Happy; N. H. Harvey, Happy; Raymond Batenhorst, Umbarger; Mrs. Bobby Gene Henry, Canyon; Mrs. Emil Olson, Canyon; Ralph Ruthart, Canyon; Mrs. Curtis Lowe, Amarillo; Jimmy B. Alvey, Amarillo; Bruce Romig, Amarillo; William Travis Aaron, Amarillo; Henry Krisher, Amarillo; Mrs. Homer Damron, Amarillo; Charles R. Brownlee, Jr., Amarillo; Raymond L. Demus Continues With Top Grades

Alan Demus, Canyon High School's prize graduate, is continuing his academic excellence at Rice University.

Demus who is in his second year at Rice, was in Canyon for the holiday visiting with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Henry Demus.

A math major, Demus has been on the honor roll at Rice since he enrolled as a freshman. About 500 of the 3,000 students at Rice are on the honor roll.

Demus said he planned to get his doctorate but hasn't decided on a graduate school. "I might continue at Rice but I think it would be a good idea to go somewhere else," he said.

"I want to get as much math as I can with a background in physics and a little computer science," Demus said. "I should be able to do most anything with that," he said concerning his future after graduation.

Demus has made one B since he enrolled at Rice. He recieved a B in Russian last year.

"I didn't have to study much last year but this year is quite a bit harder," he said.

"I have heard that the sophomore and junior years are the hardest," Demus said.

Demus is enrolled in advanced level algebra and calculus, physics, Russian and theatre this semester.

He said he participated in two plays produced at Rice last year and one this year.

"It's a nice way to take up the time and less expensive than anything else," Demus said.

Demus said the academic standards at Rice were high. "The book I will be using in a math course next year is a graduate course at the University of Houston," he said.

He said that he might grade papers for professors at Rice next year.

Mrs. Weldon Odell Campbell

Miss Taylor-Campbell Married In Greenville

Wedding vows were solemnized at Grace Temple Baptist Church in Greenville, Texas Saturday, December 21, for Huella Taylor and Weldon Odell Campbell.

Candelabra with votive candles entwined with greenery and flowers accented the altar where Rev. Merle Parker read the wedding vows.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Taylor of Amarillo, formerly of Hugo, Oklahoma. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Campbell of Greenville.

Miss Linda Taylor, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor and Miss Paula Campbell, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of deep rose avanti and cerise re-embroidered lace. The empire bodices were accented by scallops along the lower edge of the sleeves and bodice. They wore matching Dior bows accented with bouffant veiling sprinkled with lace roses and each carried a nosegay of pink flowers.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of imported peau de soie enhanced by peau de ange lace. The dress featured a controlled A-line skirt of silk peau de soie and an empire bodice overlaid with lace. The detachable chapel length watteau train was held to a silk bow and enhanced with lace panel appliques. Her double Dior bow of satin held the bouffant veil of bridal illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of carnations.

Spec. 4 Jimmy Coats served as best man and Tim Thoaten, cousin of the bridegroom, was groomsman. Ushering were Gary Turner and Mike Currin, cousin of the bridegroom.

A reception was held at the Greenville Community Center. The bridal table was pink satin overlaid with white lace. A candelabra adorned with flowers centered the table where the three-tiered white wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Included in the houseparty were Miss Toopie Daniel, Mrs. Paula Reck, Mrs. Shirley Smith, Miss Becky James and Miss Ralene Barker.

For travel, the bride changed to a two-piece suit of red, white and blue with a bouquet of white carnations lifted from the bridal bouquet.

The couple will establish their home in Van, Texas, where the bride teaches homemaking. A former student of Canyon Public Schools, the bride is a summer graduate of East Texas State University.

The bridegroom will continue his studies at East Texas State University, where he is majoring in physical education and history.

HOMEMAKER OF THE WEEK Mrs. Wallace Johnston is shown at the stairwell entry to her home, 1401 Hillcrest Drive. She shares three favorite recipes with our readers this week.

Homemaker Shares Recipes

Recipes for a Sweet-Sour Salad, Green Chilies Rice, and Cheese Cookies are shared with our readers this week by Mrs. Wallace Johnston of 1401 Hillcrest Drive in Canyon.

Mrs. Johnston, the former Rosalind Lester, was reared in Midland where she graduated from high school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Lester of Midland and has one brother, Jim, at Memphis.

After high school graduation, she attended business school in Midland, was employed for two years and then went to college at Howard Payne College where she met and married her husband in 1956.

He is a native of Beaumont and his mother, Mrs. W. F. Stanley, now lives in Norristown, Pennsylvania while a sister, Mrs. Mitty Plummer, is at Texas A & M and a brother, Scott, lives in Lockport, Louisiana.

He graduated from high school in Beaumont, attended Howard Payne College and Lamar Tech, served three years with the United States Army and then returned to Texas A& M to complete his Bachelors, Masters and doctorate degrees.

The Johnstons moved to Canyon in January 1967, where he is head of the industrial education department.

They are members of the First Baptist Church where both teach Sunday School. He is with the college young people's department and sings with the choir while she teaches a 5-year-old Sunday School class, directs the beginners choir and is director of the Sunbeam program.

Mrs. Johnston is also a member of the Golden Spread Home Demonstration Club, which she will serve as council representative during the coming year. Her husband is an active member of the Canyon Lion's Club.

The Johnstons have three daughters including, Paula, 8, who is a third grade student and Brownie Scout; Jana, 7, who is a first grade student; and Laura, 4.

Mrs. Johnston's main hobby is instructing a creative activities class for eight four-year-old children three mornings a week. One of the students is her own daughter, Laura.

"I conducted this same type of class for children while we were at Texas A & M," said Mrs. Johnston. She also enjoys reading, sewing and refinishing furniture. Her husband also designs and builds furniture for their home.

Her recipes include an unusual Cheese Cookie, which she says is a good extra tidbit to serve, and a Green Chilies Rice which is good served with a mild chili and tossed salad.

Her recipes follow:

SWEET-SOUR SALAD

1 med. head cabbage
1/2 green pepper
1 can pimento
1-2 onions
1 1/2 cup sugar
1 cup vinegar
1/2 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. celery seed
1 tsp. salt

Grate or coarsely grind cabbage, green pepper, pimento and onions. Mix together sugar, vinegar, and seasonings. Pour dressing over cabbage mixture and let stand for an hour or longer before serving.

CHEESE COOKIES

1/2 cup butter
1/4 lb. sharp cheese
1 1/2 cup sifted flour
1 Tbsp. Worchestershire sauce
1/4 tsp. cayenne pepper
1 tsp. salt

Blend butter and cheese. Add sauce and dry ingredients. Roll into balls and press with fork, or else shape into logs and slice.

Bake on ungreased cookie sheet for 25 minutes at 325 degrees.

GREEN CHILIES RICE

1 cup raw rice (not minute)
1 1/2 cups sour cream
1 small can chopped green chilies
2 cups shredded cheese

Cook rice according to package directions. Stir in sour cream. Layer 1/2 of rice mixture, green chilies and cheese in greased casserole dish. Repeat with second layer and place in medium oven until cheese melts. Serve with green salad and chili.
